Diverse reports come from Natal, one asserting that the Boers have retired beyoud the Biggarsburg range and another saying that some of them are close to Ladysmith.

London waits confidently for almost immediate announcement of news favorwhile to the British. Distrust exists, however, as to any rapid, continuous advance toward Pretoria, chiefly on account of the lack of horses, many of which die in the case of long voyages. Letters from the Cape say that the three days' journey by rail is made in open trucks; that the arrangements for feeding and watering are inadequate, and that the unfortunate animals break down rapidly in consequence of these hardships. Despite the energy of its buyers abroad, the war office forseed much difficulty in supplying the enormous number of horses required.

WATERBURY BANK AFFAIR.

Waterbury, Vt., April 17.-Teller J. C. Farrar, the missing officer of the Waterbury National bank, is under arrest at Boston. It was known early Monday morning that Farrar was in Boston, through a message received by Ildward Farrar, father of the teller, and later a telephone message to Mr. Moody was understood to be from the same indi-

Farrar arrived at Boston Sunday and sought out the broker with whom be had had dealings in the stock market and the two went together to the Quincy House, where Farrar registered under an assumed name. Monday afternoon was spent at one of the local theaters, and when shortly before 8 o'clock Deputy Sheriff Tracy of Montpelier arrived Farrar was in his room taking a bath.

During the day he had communicated with Montpelier by telephone and had quested George E. Moody, a local lumber dealer, to come to Boston. In the meantime President Dillingham had notified District Attorney Morton of Montpeller and word had been sent to Boston to detain Farrar until the arrival of the Vermont officers. The Boston police located him late in the afternoon. but the Vermont officers were the first to see him, and it was only when Farrar came down from his room to the dining from that Inspector Robertson of Boston headquarters put in an appearance and informed him of his arrest,

Farrar acknowledged to the officers that he was short in his accounts at the bank, and that he had spent all the money in the stock market. He seemed very much surprised and considerably cast down at being sent to prison, but nevertheless was much relieved by the prospect of returning soon and seemed to feel that the matter might be adjusted

All day Monday President Dillingham and several directors of the bank looked over the books and securities, and it was given out last night that Teller Farrar's reported embezzlements were not so large as earlier stated, the figures having a total of less than $25,000. It has not been determined how far back the misuse of funds began.

RECENT DEATHS.

Carpenter.

Mrs. Sarah Fitch Carpenter, wife of E. P. Carpenter, died at her home on Webster street Thursday morning. Mrs. Carpenter had been in poor health nearly all winter but her illness was not of a serious nature until about five weeks ago when she suffered an attack of pneumo- dent of St. Johnsbury and was well and ship. nia to which was added other complications and on Sunday of last week congestion of the brain developed which was the immediate cause of her death. Mrs. Carpenter was born at Enfield, N. H., December 8, 1847, and at this place and in Lebanon her earlier years were spent. She was married to E. P. Carpenter at the latter place on June 19, 1871, living first at Derby Line and later moving to Johnson where they resided for 15 with a severe attack of fever. He was years. Coming to St. Johnsbury about ten years ago they resided first on Clin- a general expression of regret over his ton avenue and for the past few years at the present home on Webster street.

The death of Mrs. Carpenter will bring genuine sorrow to the hearts of her many friends. Being possessed of a singularly unselfish and sympathetic nature ber life has been one in which the welfare of others has always been first. There has fallen to her lot, perhaps more, than the average amount of care for those in affliction, but during it all there was always shown the same self-sacrificing spirit has characterized her Not only among her relatives and those nearest her will her death bring sadness but among a large number of friends and acquaintances there is a feeling of genuine regret at the ending of this quiet life. From her earliest days Mrs. Carpenter has been a member of the church and during her residence in St. Johnsbury has been connected with the North church. On Mr. Carpenter, who is at times a great sufferer from diseases contracted in the army, the blow will fall with greatest force and he has the sympathy of the entire community. Mrs. Carpenter leaves two sisters, Mrs. Parker Stearns and Mrs. Mary Perry, of Johnson, and one brother, A. Perley Fitch of Concord.

The funeral was held at the house Saturday afternoon at three o'clock, Rev. C. M. Carpenter, of Cambridge, officiating. The bearers were John H. Carpenter, Parker Stearns, Willard C. Carpenter, and Horace R. Brown. Among those present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Horace R. Brown, of Malden, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Carpenter, of Groveton, Rev. C. M. Carpenter, of Cambridge, Ryan, a farmer, hanged himself in his Mass., Mrs. Mary Perry, Miss Ida Perry and Mr. and Mrs. Parker Stearns, of Tillotson.

Frank Benjamin Tillotson died at the home of his mother on Cherry street on Wednesday afternoon of last week. His death was the result of quick consumption, following a severe attack of the cated in a small village 10 miles from grip. Mr. Tillotson contracted this epidemie in his California home early in the winter and, not recovering his health, he went in February to San Francisco, hoping to be benefited by the change. Heremained there about three weeks but there being no improvement in his condition he started for his mother's home in killed on the Fitchburg railroad at Wor- St. Johnsbury. After his arrival here on March 12 for a time he seemed to improve Abfal Fisher, a prominent business somewhat but the dread malady had too few days he failed rapidly until the end.

The funeral was held at the house at 8 o'clock Friday morning and the burial generations of the Tillotson family. Although never a resident of St. Johnsbury except for a very short period, Mr. Tillotson's long service in the railroad offices at Lyndonville gave him a wide acquaintance in this vicinity at that time, and he still had here many friends or his earlier days. He was born in Manchester, N. H. spent there. About the time his father, Rev. B. M. Tillotson, assumed charge of the Universalist church here, he entered the office of N. P. Lovering at Lyndonville, where he remained for several years Later he went to Boston and was employed in the office of Supt. Parker, After this he was a Pullman car confuctor running between Boston and Montreal. About fourteen years ago he went to California and this state has since been his home. While in California he engaged again in the railroad business at National City but leaving that he has for some years been in the employ of the Kern County Land Co. with headquarters at Bakersfield, California. Besides his mother, he leaves a sister, Miss May Tillotson, of this place. Mr. Tillotson was a man who was very popular with his associates and the announcement of his death will bring feelings of genuine regret to many of his old-time triends. Mrs. and Miss Tillotson have this affliction.

Lynn J. Allen, a former and well known resident here was electrocuted at Burlington Thursday afternoon, at the Shepard and Morse lumber mill by coming in contact with live wires. He was omployed by W. H. Buckley & Co., and was fitting steam pipes for the new dry kiln 13 to good, at the north end of the lumber mill. The night watchmau's clock has been irregular for a day or two and it was thought the trouble was due to the wires coming up the ladder and took hold of the wires. Everything surrounding him was damp from the rain and the instant he caught the wires the strong current went through him. His body became doubled by the force of the shock and death must have been instantaneous. A foreman at the mill and an assistant with Allen caught the body and forced it from the wires. Both received an electric shock, but as they were rubbers they were insulated and the full force of the current did not go through them. The accident was wholly unexpected and blame is attached to no one. It was found on investigation that one of the electric light wires had become crossed with the clock wires in front of the business office of the Shep-strength of the shock, could not be ascertained but it is thought that a current of about 1900 to 2000 volts passed through the dead man's body. Mr. Allen had been in Burlington about two years, moving there from here. He has been in the employ of W. H. Buckley and company during this time and has always been an efficient and faithful employe. He was for many years a resifavorably known here. He learned the plumbers trade with A. B. Noyes & Co., and afterwards was for some time employed by Charles P. Carpenter. Later he worked as a jobber, doing the plumbing and steam fitting in several buildings among which was the Pythian building. Mr. Allen was for a long time a member of Co. D, and served with the company during the Spanish-American war as a corporal. During a greater part of the summer at Chickamauga he was in the hospital, first with diphtheria and later very popular with the boys and there is sudden death. September, 30, last, he married Miss Jessie Hilliard of Burlington, and they have since lived with her parents there. He leaves a father and one sister, Mrs. A. J. Burdick Maxwell.

both of this place. Miss Sarah Maxwell died very suddenly at the boarding house at Fairbanks Village last Saturday afternoon, where she has been employed by L. F. Miner. She had assisted at the tables during the dinner bour and was found unconscious in her room a little later, dying about two o'clock, the cause being heart trouble. She was a young lady about 22 years of age. Her nearest relative in town was Mrs. John Farnham, who accompanied her remains to Inverness, her former home, Monday.

Reduction Recommended.

The directors of the Merchant's National Bank have decided to recommend the reduction of the capital stock of that Aug. 16th, 1850, and his early life was institution from $300,000 to $150,000 and will issue a call for a special meeting of the stockholders to be held May 21, for the purpose of taking action in the matter. A circular letter will be issued in the near future which will say in substance:

To the Stockholders:-

In regard to the enclosed call for a special meeting of the stockholders of this bank, your directors offer the following explanation.

Owing to the rapid increase of banking facilities in this vicinity during the past few years, it is evident to those who have studied the situation with care, that there is now more capital invested in this line of business than can be profitably employed. The matter of reducing the capital stock of this association has been for some time carefully considered by us, but heretofore our condition would not permit such reduction. We are now pleased to report, however, that the condition of the bank is so much improved that a reduction of capital can now be made and we believe your interest will be greatly benefited by the acceptance of the following proposition which has the full approval of the Comptroller of the currency and such of the larger stockholders as we have thus far been able to consult. Viz:

The reduction of the capital stock from $300,000 to $150,000, two-thirds of this reduction or $100,000 to be returned to the stockholders in cash and the remaining $50,000 to be retained by the bank for the purpose of increasing the surplus fund.

This plan it executed will leave the bank in strong condition and capable of paying satisfactory dividends. The large surplus fund will allow of the distribution of the entire earnings each dividend period which cannot be done with our present small surplus. There will also be a considerable saving in the matter of

The directors are unanimous in the idea that the change would be beneficial and so far as they have been seen a like opinion seems to prevail among the stockholders.

EASTER SUNDAY.

Church of the Messiah.

The pastor preached a sermon at the morning service appropriate to the day, his theme being "Immortality of the Soul." In the evening came the annual Easter concert by the Sunday school which was well given. The church was tastefully decorated with potted plants and flowers, especially around the pulpit, and the attendance at both services was North Church. At the morning service the musical programme as announced in last week's paper was well carried out and Rev. Dr. Hawes preached a scholarly sermon upon the belief in the resurrection. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers from the conservatories at Pinehurst and Underclyffe and the palms and potted plants, orchids and lilies were tastefully arranged by Messrs. Gentry and Borland.

In the evening the children of the Sunday school gave their annual Easter concert. It was a very pretty sight to see them march into the church, each wearing a bouquet of flowers presented to them by Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Brooks. The children all did well, the sermon by Joseph Cheney being the feature of the evening. At the close of the concert Dr. Hawes gave a ten minutes address to the little folks. The church was crowded at both services and the electric lights were turned on for the first time at the evening service, making the church unusually light. St. Aloysius.

Easter Sunday was observed at St.

Aloysius church in a very fitting manner. Services opened in the morning with low | Lorraine mill has proved unsuccessful, mass, Rev. J. A. Lynch being the celebrant. | and nearly 150 of the men out of the total The music connected with this service was enjoyed by all. The choir opened the service with the Easter Carol, "The world itself keeps Easter Day," and was followed by several selected hymns. At this service the junior choir did excellent work. At the ten o'clock service Rev. Father Maillet was the celebrant and Rev. J. A. Lynch preached the sermon, speaking from the gospel of the day on the resurrection. At this service the senior choir did excellent work. They have been for the last two months under the supervision of Miss Katherine Dugan, of Boston, and special Easter music had been prepared. Especial mention should be made of the solo rendered by Miss Dugan and the quintette work by Misses Caldbeck, Glynn, Hynes, and Messrs. Perry and Oliver. At the 4 o'clock service benediction was celebrated by the pastor and at this service also the choir gave several choice selections and Miss | Hive Carpet Store for the spring catalogue Dugan sang Laudate, with choir accompaniment with wonderful ability. Miss Ryan, the organist, has just returned from Boston where she has been taking lessons on the pipe organ. She assumed her old place at the organ presiding with much grace and ability.

The church was tastily decorated with potted plants and cut flowers and presented an attractive appearance.

South Church.

At the morning service at the South church, the pastor, Rev. Dr. Fairbanks preached from the text, John 17: 4, "I have glorified thee on earth; I have finished the work which thou govest me to do." The discourse was a beautiful review of the life work of the Master in executing the will of the Father from the little child on the hillside at Nazareth to the cross of Calvary. The special musical programme was as usual of a very high order, the work of the chorus being the leading feature of the musical service. The solo work was well sustained by the members of the church quartette. In the evening the usual children's concert was given and at this service the chorus rendered an excellent programme. At the evening service Misses Isabelle Paddock and Luclla Merrill assisted at the piano, Both in the morning and evening the violin playing of Miss Helen Boynton added greatly to the musical features. The decorations for the day were simply lilies and palms grouped about the pulpit.

St. Andrew's.

Because of the absence of the rector the early morning service was omitted. Elisha May, lay reader, conducted the service at 10.30 and the musical programme as formerly prepared was finely rendered by a full choir. Mr. May read an extract from the "Resurrection" by Canon Farrar. The afternoon service was omitted.

The chancel and altar were tastily decorated with palms and Easter lilies and the font and pulpit with roses and pinks. Richard Gibson very liberally supplied each member of the choir, and the organist with flowers.

Notre Dame des Victoires. The interior of the church presented a splendid appearance on Easter Sunday. The decorations proved exquisite taste, the beautiful Paschal candle, gift of the Will & Banner Co. of Syracuse, held a prominent place; the altars were literally covered with flowers and all was in keeping with the solemnity of the day, Rev. L. Marceau officiated at high mass. The music was one of the features of the service, the choir, under the direction of Mr. Thomas Gagnon, surpassing all previous efforts. Their rendition of Prof. Fowler's mass in E flat was most artistic. The majestic choruses of the Gloria in Excelsis, the Credo and the Sanctus filled the church with the richest harmony. In the more tender music of the Kyrie and the Agnes Dei some very delicate effects were obtained. Rev. J. A. Boissonnault preached from St. Mark, xvi: 1-7. Rev. H. Maillet officiated at solemn vespers and benediction in the afternoon. The rendering of the Tantum Ergo left all under the impression feet in all three dimensions. First Baptist Church.

The newly renovated audience room o the First Baptist church was well filled at the Easter services last Sunday and all were greatly pleased not only wit the bright and attractive appearance of the house but with the very interesting services of the day. The children di themselves great credit and won much praise in the evening in the rendering o the concert exercises entitled "The Birth Day of Hope."

Free Baptist Church.

The annual Easter concert by the Sun day school of the Free Baptist church was in every way creditable. The pr gramme was a miscellaneous one and in cluded a fine anthem by the choir, carols by single scholars and by classes choruses by the school and a variety of recitations all of which were well done Miss Ella Stevenson played a violin sol and carols were sung by Gladys Jordan Laura Fenno and Walter Farr. The church was profusely decorated with palms, ferns and other plants and cur flowers. The superintendent, D. M. Badger, directed the exercises and the large audience present was deeply interested from beginning to end.
